

ANCIENT PEAKS WINERY

Recent Press...

"If you don't know about the Ancient Peaks brand, it's time to start learning. Over-delivering in quality is the hallmark of these wines and this Zinfandel looks and tastes like it could cost double the price tag. Buy one for your boss and two for yourself."

December 2011

"Ancient Peaks is quickly becoming one of our favorite consistent producers of affordable wines with lots of personality, sourced from the Margarita Vineyard, just 14 miles from the Pacific Ocean."

Wine Spectator

November 2010

"There are plenty of good values out there, and not all of them are cranked out by nameless wine factories. Case in point is Ancient Peaks, a Central Coast winery owned by a group of winegrowing families. All its wines sell for less than $20, and they consistently deliver well beyond their price range."

Wine Spectator

Tim Fish, December 2010

"As we tasted through the varietals...the common thread was exotically rich, voluptuous fruit and a serious backbone."

"And for the best value on the dollar, it's hard to beat the short but impressive track record of Ancient Peaks. The 2008 Syrah, Zinfandel and Merlot are all best buys."

Wine Spectator

Tim Fish, February 23, 2011

"One of Paso Robles' coolest spots...The Pacific Ocean lies just 14 miles beyond...Margarita Vineyard includes blocks of vines on virtually bare shale...Oyster Ridge is perhaps the most dramatically calcareous chunk of earth in the entire state."

Wine & Spirits

Luke Sykora, May 2011